In this year of change we seek guidance and wisdom. . .not just the inevitability of change, but how we approach, embrace, and integrate change into our lives. As we, once again, begin our descent into the season of winter and prepare ourselves for the coming dark, we give thanks for the bounty of the Earth's harvest.

This Hallows Eve, as we stalk our fears, grasping our courage and our all encompassing power of change, we remember and call forth the myth of Medusa. You might think you know her story. . .a scary, evil woman with snakes as hair who turns people to stone? Medusa, a mythic Goddess, is one of those many stories that got turned upside down. Medusa's name in Greek, means Guardian and Protectress.

For the altar, bring a jar candle and, if you wish, a photo of a loved one/s who has crossed over that you would like to honor in community at this time of the year.

Join us as we honor the dark and connect with our ancestors this Hallows Eve. We ask the ancestors for guidance for the Earth, ourselves, each other, and community, through dance, song, and sacred enactment.
